High Quality Brokerage Services

James I. Anthony, III is committed to providing Anthony & Co. clients with the highest quality brokerage services in the commercial real estate industry. Currently he represents a diverse portfolio of office, retail and industrial buildings. Along with his colleagues, James' mission is to help his clients achieve the highest value and return on their investment. His seasoned and close working professional relationships with tenants and owners create an atmosphere of success.

James's prior Property Management experience brings value to his clients and co-brokers. As a Property Manager, his operational responsibilities included: tenant retention and recruitment, landlord representation, contract preparation, financial reporting, managing capital improvements and routine maintenance of both residential and commercial properties.

As a native of Raleigh, James' local knowledge and relationships are valuable assets to the company and his clients. Past entrepreneurial experience in sales has prepared James to contribute his creativity, negotiation, problem solving and social skills to his clients and to the Brokerage Services Team.
